THE PROBLEM

The E-Commerce Build Gap

Small and medium businesses are currently forced to choose between simplicity and scalability, with no middle ground.

Too Rigid

Traditional platforms like Shopify prioritize ease of use but severely limit flexibility. Merchants face plugin sprawl and complex workarounds just to customize their store.

Too Expensive

Headless frameworks and enterprise solutions like Magento require expensive engineering teams to implement and maintain, pricing out most growing businesses.

Too Slow

Custom builds take weeks or months to launch. This slow iteration cycle stifles marketing agility and prevents brands from adapting to customer needs quickly.

THE SOLUTION

AI Meets Composable Commerce

AI Storefront Editor

Generate, edit, and personalize storefronts in minutes using AI. No coding required, just describe what you want.

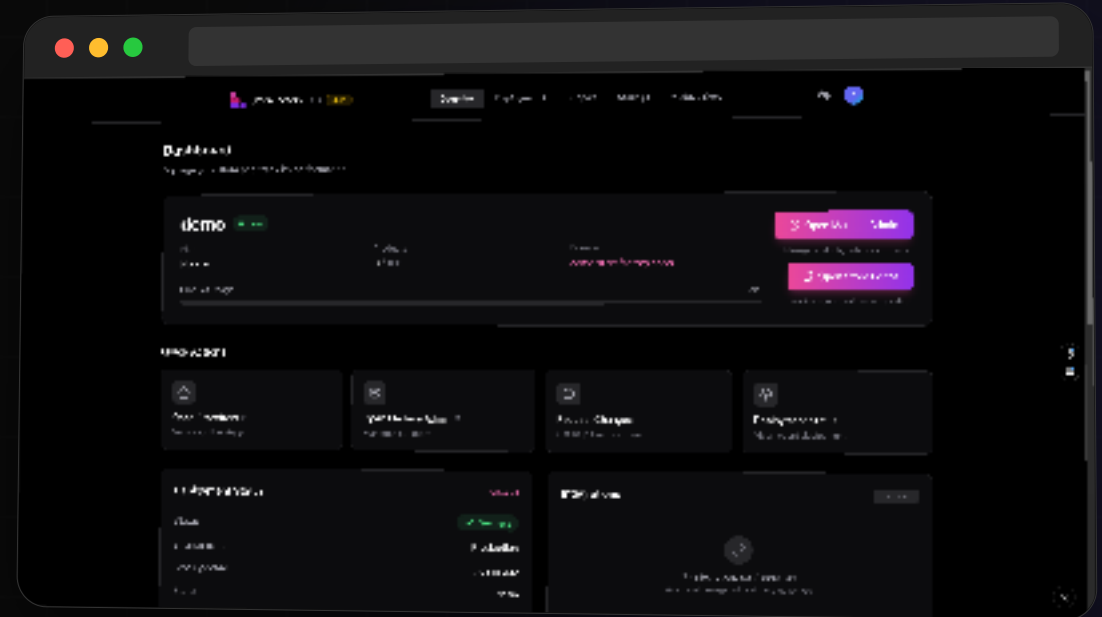

Composable Core

Built on modern headless architecture. Connect to any existing ERP, CRM, or inventory system via API as you scale.

Simple Ops Dashboard

Manage products, orders, and payments from a single, intuitive dashboard designed for business owners, not devs.
